Advertising On Techeconomy

Techeconomy provides a range of advertising options, which include:

- Prominent web banners for maximum impact.
- Engaging email newsletters.
- Sponsored content such as press releases and custom articles.
- Sponsorship opportunities for events and sector reports.
- Prominent web banners for maximum impact.

Our web banners are incredibly versatile, and perfect for a wide range of advertising needs, from comprehensive campaigns to event promotions and more. With eye-catching design and adaptability, they empower marketers to create engaging digital strategies that resonate across platforms, ensuring your message reaches its audience with impact and style.

- Engaging email newsletters:

Every week, we deliver three unique newsletters, each geared toward enhancing decision-making in the realms of business and technology. These newsletters are meticulously crafted to cater to specific audiences that align with your target demographic.

- Sponsored content (PR & Content Articles):

Sponsored content or articles can be created by either your team or the Techeconomy team. After their creation, these posts or articles are published on our website. Additionally, these pieces are actively promoted on our social media platforms and included in our newsletters for a week to maximize their reach and impact.

- Sponsorship opportunities (Events & Reports):

Sponsorship opportunities for events and sector reports are available through our platform. These sponsorships provide valuable exposure and engagement opportunities, as we promote the sponsored events and reports on our website, social media platforms, and in our newsletters for a specified duration. This creates a strategic partnership that benefits both parties and extends your reach within our diverse audience.

Techeconomy is bringing you two major events in 2024

Techeconomy gives you a front-row seat to the exciting world of tech, business and innovation in Africa.

In 2024, get ready for some game-changing moments as The Infowave Space and INNOFEAST bring together the brightest minds for inspiring talks and trendsetting ideas. It's not just about events – it's where the future of African tech and innovation comes to life.

The image shows a professional broadcast microphone on a stand, positioned on a wooden desk in a dimly lit room at night. A desk lamp is visible on the left, and a large indoor plant is on the right. The background features a window with a view of palm trees. Overlaid on the right side of the microphone is a logo consisting of four concentric, semi-transparent circular arcs in orange, pink, and blue, followed by the text 'info wave' in a white, lowercase, sans-serif font.

An INFOWAVE space for the most important tech, business and innovation decision makers in government and private industry

The Xspace will bring together industry leaders, regulators, investors and global players together for a session of engagement, co-creation and building every quarter to ensure a more prosperous and productive tech industry for all.

The power-session event will:

- Create powerful regulatory conversations by bringing policy makers and industry players together.
- Offer investors a rich gathering of the most innovative companies looking to scale their business across Africa.
- Offer key players privileged access and conversations with government decision makers and the opportunity to shape the future.
